Wise Named to Head Bureau

Succeeds Clarence Beckman Who Has Served Two Terms As Farm Bureau President

The annual meeting of the Randall County Farm Bureau Association was held in the Court House Wednesday. All committees of the county were represented. The regular order of business at the annual meeting is the election of officers for the year which begins on the day following the meeting each year.

Clarence Beckman has been president of the County Association for the past two years. He asked the group to relieve him of the responsibility for the coming year on account of a shortage of help on the farm and the necessity for him to be more closely confined at home.

A. E. Wise was elected president, H. W. Burrus, vice president, Mrs. A. E. Michael was re-elected secretary-treasurer. L. E. Mason and Clarence Beckman were elected to serve on the executive committee. The meeting was favored with a very interesting reading by Miss Noma Bryan of the Centerview community.

The secretary's report to the annual meeting shows the county organization to be in good condition. About two-thirds of the members had paid 1945 dues at the time of the meeting.

The local Farm Bureau is a unit of the Texas State Association which in turn is affiliated with the National Farm Bureau Federation. The county unit in Randall county is made up of eight community units.

The local organization supports the State and National organizations as well as sponsoring certain services for its members, such as, Group Hospitalization. Plans are being made to maintain an income tax service for the members next winter.

OPA To Extend Ceilings to All Clothes-Dry Goods

A new price regulation covering apparel, dry goods and house furnishings was announced by the Office of Price Administration on Tuesday. Dan F. Sanders, Chairman of the Randall County War Price and Rationing Board, stated that the principal provision of the regulation is that each retailer must prepare a pricing chart showing the costs and selling prices of the goods he offered for sale on March 19, 1945. "The job of calculating ceiling prices for apparel, dry goods, and house furnishings will be greatly simplified by these pricing charts," he said.

"The new regulation is a follow-up on the OPA-WPB clothing program announced in January, and should mean that more of the clothing appearing in stores this summer will be in the low and medium-price ranges."

The Merchant's Committee is made up of C. L. Thompson, T. A. Black, Frank Begert, and I. S. Doak.

Funds Increase as Contributions Continue to Come

The Chapel Fund continues its growth, two contributions of special interest having been received this week.

From George Hohmann, wounded soldier who still faces eight months or more in the hospital, came a crisp ten dollar bill. George wrote, "The building of a chapel strikes me as a wonderful project; I certainly hope it may mature very soon."

The other contribution was from Dorris Leggett, Home Economics major of the class of '29, and now District Home Demonstration Agent for the territory in which W. T. stands. Miss Lebbitt was interested in all phases of constructive college activity when she was on the campus, and her interest has continued through the busy years since. She was a teacher and then a county home demonstration agent before she was promoted to her present position.

She wrote, "I hope the chapel can have chimes." President J. A. Hill has expressed his great hope that there will be chimes.

Buff Is Named All-Star Player

Freshman From Stratford Wins High Honors in the Kansas City Tournament

J. W. Malone, 5 feet, 8 inches tall, has put the name of the West Texas State Buffaloes on the sports map again. By being named on the National Collegiate Basketball Tournament all-star team, Malone continued his high school record of making a name for himself and his school.

Ball handling, drive, speed, alertness and aggressiveness won for the freshman player the acclaim of coaches, Associated Press and United Press sports writers at the K. C. meet, and the hearts of everyone who saw him perform.

In placing on the all-star team, Malone broke into the unusual on two counts. His team played only two games; all others named on the all-stars played at least four games. Then Malone is an 18-year-old freshman. For a freshman to gain such recognition, even in wartime, is unusual.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Malone of Stratford, J. W. played three years of high school basketball at Stratford under the coaching of W. T. ex-student, Grady Pearson. The last two years in high school Malone was named on the district and regional all-star teams and last season was placed on all-tournament teams at Stratford, Stinnett, Canadian and Canyon.

Deak Johnson, captain and high-scoring star for the Texas representative in the meet, was named on the second team.

John Hunter Was on German Soil 25 Years Ago

More than one veteran of the World War I is sitting today retracing with the soldiers in Europe steps that are now being made.

John Hunter, who has given one of his sons in this war and has two more serving in the Navy, was a Sergeant in Battery "C" 13th Field Artillery, 4th Division, on the front line when the Armistice was signed. He went into Germany with the army of Occupation and was stationed for 7 months at Ahrweller on a small tributary of the Rhine a short distance south of Coln.

Most vivid in Mr. Hunter's memory are the battles of Meuse-Argonne and the 2nd battle of the Marne. He was wounded in the left arm.

He was in the army 2½ years and trained at El Paso and Charlotte, N. Carolina.

Freezing Mark Is Hit Tuesday in Winter Return

The temperature dropped to 28 degrees above zero Tuesday morning. Practically no moisture was received from the mist and the few snow flakes which fell during the morning.

Fruit trees were in full bloom when the freeze hit. Some citizens believe that practically all of the fruit has been killed, while others think that little damage has been done.

The unseasonably warm weather of February and March has advanced the fruit trees far beyond their usual development for this time of year.

Refrigerator Is Damaged in Fire at Sharp Home

Fire in the milk house of the J. R. Sharp Dairy did only a small amount of damage Tuesday morning. Quick work on the part of neighbors and the fire department probably saved a heavy loss.

When Mr. Sharp opened the milk house at 6 o'clock, it was filled with smoke. It is presumed that a short in one of the refrigerators caused the fire. This machine was the only part of the dairy plant materially damaged.

Mrs. W. L. Smith Begins Work in WT Film Division

After an interruption caused by war conditions, film service at West Texas State College is being resumed.

On March 1 Mrs. W. L. Smith became a member of the staff of the Bureau of Public Service and her full time will be devoted to the film service. It is expected that the service will not be in full order before September 1. Thousands of feet of film are to be conditioned. A film catalog is to be prepared and printed and many new films are to be added to those now on hand.

Members of the faculty can have moving pictures shown at any hour of the day even now. One projector will be used in the auditorium of the Education Building during the hours when it is available and Miss Darthula Walker, Head of the Geography Department has given permission to use that department's projector and classroom during those hours when Geography classes are not meeting in it.

When the film service was practically discontinued two years ago, because of lack of manpower, pictures were being shown to an average of 75,000 persons per month. It is believed that by next fall that number can be reached again and increased.

School Census Is Being Taken Now by S. B. Orton

S. B. Orton will complete the school census for the Canyon Independent School District by April 1.

Mr. Orton stated yesterday that this was the hardest census that he has ever taken. Several families have moved in and out of Canyon during the past week, which adds to the difficulties of taking the census.

Mr. Orton has not compiled the census blanks which he has taken and did not know yesterday how the count compares with that of last year.

The district received $26.50 for each child enumerated last year. It is estimated that the district will receive $31 for each child listed on the rolls for this year.

If there are any parents whose children have not been taken in the census by Mr. Orton, they should see him at the court house before April 1.

Editorials

The News had a happy experience the other day. A visitor from another state came in to ask about Canyon and the possibilities of locating in Canyon. He wanted two things: A good home and a good business. He had spotted both of these in Canyon. He had visited Canyon several times before coming to The News office. Canyon citizens will be interested in his reasons for wanting to move here. He had investigated other towns, but had rejected them. He said that he liked Canyon because of the good physical appearance. He wanted to buy a business, which is not for sale, because Canyon offered good opportunities. But the most appealing value he held of Canyon was the fine moral atmosphere which he found. He has children. "They are good kids, and my wife and I want to keep them good," he said. "We like Canyon and believe that the moral atmosphere is the best that we have found. We like the schools, and know that the kids will profit from the schools," he stated. This is the value of an outsider who made a critical survey of Canyon. While Canyon citizens will be puffed up to hear what this man thinks of Canyon, we must not rest on our past performances, but work hard to live up to this reputation.

There is a political publication at Austin, The Texas Observer, which pretends to lay all of the political ills of the state on the Texas Regulars. This publication, the mouthpiece of Dr. Homer P. Rainey, claims that the Governor has appointed only Texas Reguars to all important offices, and that this group is threatening dire distress to the good state of Texas. This is an unwarranted and completely unjust compliment to the Texas Regulars. The Regulars received only a small per cent of the votes in the general election. To claim that this group now controls the state is either an admission that the cause of the Regulars was right, or that thousands of Texans have now joined in this movement. So far as we know neither is the case. So far as we have heard, the anti-Roosevelt movement in Texas, as reflected by the Texas Regulars, died in November and will not be ressurected unless the New Dealers are foolish enough to run Roosevelt for a fifth term—as some of them have been advocating.

Pappy O'Daniel is in bad with the Justice Department. Last year when Pappy was collecting thousands of dollars to carry on his radio broadcast and publish his newspaper, The News pointed to the fact that Pappy was dealing in big money which might get him into trouble. So far as Texas is concerned, we could do without Pappy in Washington. The News has never supported Pappy, and may be a little prejudiced against him. But he has never been considered seriously in Washington and never will be. His term of office expires in 1948. Texas would do well to replace him with a man upon who we can depend. Texas has been strong for Pappy in the past, so we are not predicting at this time what the voters will do three years hence.

John L. Lewis is sitting tight on his demands for the miners. The mine owners are sitting tight in their opposition to the demands of Lewis. Neither of them is fooling anyone. Lewis and the operators both know that the government will not allow the strike to be pulled off. War plants would be shut down, and thousands of men in uniform might be killed forthe lack of war materials if a strike was allowed. Ickes will take over the mines; will give Lewis practically all he asks for the miners; and the operators will get more money for their coal. It is not a pretty picture, but Lewis is smart as well as unscrupulous in his demands.

Because 7 men loafed on the job and were fired, 30,000 men struck in Detroit in order to protect these 7 outlaws in their right to loaf. In Hollywood, 37 men became engaged in a jurisdictional dispute over union affiliations. And thousands of workers strike in sympathy. If a man in uniform would strike, he would be shot. At home our government not ofnly condones strikes, but usually winds up by giving strikers what they want. Just how long is this thing going to continue in America.

The food situation is bothering Washington. Yet nothing seems to be in process toward solving the situation. A few weeks ago Selective Service announced that there was an ample supply of food, so farm boys must be inducted into the armed forces. But this week the picture has changed. Marvin Jones admits that the food crisis is upon us. Meat for Americans is being cut below normal. As Food Administrator, Jones admits that he does not know how to handle the situation. Another government agency has been set up to advise Jones. That is the way they do in Washington—when one agency gets hold of a hot potato, the President glibbly sets up another agency to share responsibility with the one which is squaking for help. But this is not going to produce more food. It is not going to replace the meat which has spoiled by the thousands of tons in government warehouses. It is not going to put more food on American tables, or provide more food for starving unfortunates in Europe. The President announced this week that Americans would have to tighten their belts because we were going to feed the starving people of Europe. The News believed for months that Washington was bungling the food situation in taking good farm boys away from food production while the situation was so apparently critical. Congressional investigation shows that war plants are hording men; the government allows strikes to continue; and yet the farms are being robbed of the men who are so greatly needed to produce food. The situation is entirely lop-sided.

Warning comes that all sorts of frauds will be offered to the public after the war. The people will have billions of dollars to spend as they cash their government bonds. They will be easy prey to load up on useless gadgets. Since this warning comes from certain branches of the government, we are prone to wonder if there is not hopeful talking, rather than real fear in the warning. We are wondering if some of the bureaucrats are not seeking to create new jobs for themselves after the war. Regardless of this question, the fact remains that there will be actual danger of fraud. Every sane and sensible person will hold onto his bonds until he is certain that he can invest in sound enterprises which will make life more comfortable for him and his family.

Homer P. Rainey backed down and did not accept the challenge of the Dallas Times-Herald to present instances in which academic freedom was violated in Texas. $5,000 looked like easy money to Rainey when the announcement was first made. Yet getting facts was something else. The News is still wondering just what this "academic freedom" really is. We have asked a number of college professors, and none of them seemed to know. Out here on the high plains college men are not worried about their freedom being taken away. They find plenty of useful subjects to teach without indulging in those branches which are objectionable to the people of the state.

The new midnight closing law is under fire. In one Panhandle town local officers advise that any person found on the streets after midnight will be arrested. This is unreasonable and not contemplated by the regulation. The New York Times has made a serious study of its effect on the nation's largest city. The rule is considered foolish, and the results questionable by the nation's greatest newspaper. Perhaps we shall yet be able to win the war in spite of a lot of silly regulations from Washington. Mayor La Guardia took the bull by the horns and Sunday ordered that closing time be postponed from midnight to 1 o'clock. He is the first to defy the federal order. We shall see what we shall see.

Churchill has changed his mind as to the time the war will end. Last year we were fed on the idea that the war in Europe would be over before December. As a result, the home front slackened its efforts. The easy march across France met stubborn resistence when our troops reached Germany. Churchill now places the end of the war as late summer. With the fanatical but hopeless resistence of the Germans, we are now shown just how foolish we were to believe than any early victory could be gained.

The car's speedometer doesn't always reveal how far a couple has gone.

Just how much propaganda are we being fed in this war? We cannot help recall the rude awakening of America in 1919 when we realized that a lot of crude propaganda was swallowed by Americans. A Spanish speaker Thursday night pictured the horrors of a German prison camp, and the treatment given prisoners. Men and women are stripped and punished by the Germans in an effort to secure information. While all of us agree that Hitler has reared a brutal and heartless young generation, can it be possible that all Germans have sunk to this low grade of mentality? We could not keep from wondering if shrewd propaganda was being used to induce America to demand a harder peace for Germany and to secure more aid from America in rebuilding Europe. We heard the same kind of a talk from an Englishman recently, and were convinced that much of the speech was propaganda. Scores of books are coming out on the war and war conditions. Yet, in spite of the suffering in France, the pictures taken in Paris as our troops moved in showed crowds equally as well dressed as an American crowd might be on such an occasion. If the propagandists wished to use such pictures, they should have selected a more undernourished crowd. This is not meant as a criticism of our war efforts. Every American knows that we must stay in there and whip the Germans as quickly as possible. But we cannot help wondering just how much propaganda is being successfully used in light of the fact that all of our news is cleared through London. So far as the Japs are concerned, no one doubts the cruelty and brutality of that nation. We get our information first hand to show how the Japs have mistreated Americans who have fallen into their hands. The treatment of American prisoners by the Japs can only lead to one conclusion—the Japs are utterly uncivilized and should be wiped out.

Mayor W. A. Warren has challenged the people of Canyon. He wants an improvement program which will show real progress in Canyon. We have been resting on our laurels as a good town and have not shown the progressive spirit which is needed. We need more homes; to improve all homes; to remodel and improve all business houses; to improve our public schools; to get behind West Texas State and the program which has been adopted for the future. Canyon did the almost impossible in 1909 in securing the location of the college against great odds. The time is here right now for Randall county people to make another real sacrifice in putting up money to greatly improve the facilities of the college. Every citizen should take this program under serious consideration.

The legislature is in a squabble over building funds for the 15 state educational institutions aside from the Uuniversity and A. & M. These two institutions divide the oil royalties, which brings them large annual returns for buildings. Other state educational institutions must rely on legislative appropriations. These appropriations have been very, very small in years past as compared with the annual funds which go to the two big institutions. One proposal is that all state institutions share in this oil royalty. Naturally the University and A. & M. College object to this. The other proposal is a state constitutional amendment to float bonds for buildings for the 15 institutions. This bond issue would be $20 million dollars, which is far more than the legislature would probably appropriate in a dozen years. It is certain that something must be done to improve buildings on the 15 campuses. It looks as if the bond issue is the logical answer to the demands which will be made on the colleges of Texas under the terms of the GI bill.

J. Edgar Hoover is alarmed. He is looking at the youth problem, and wonders what will be the result after the war. He is fearful of a crime wave, and has adequate grounds. Offenses of youth against society have increased 175%. For a breakdown, the following facts as revealed by Hoover are alarming. Robbery cases among youth have increased 40%; assault is up 43%; intoxication is up 155%; disorderly conduct has increased 300%. War brings out the worst of a people. Fathers and mothers are working, leaving children to run fancy free. The results are obvious. Practically every community is starting some sort of youth training center which may be supervised. The question is obvious: It is better to gather youth into one group where they may be supervised; or to allow them to run at large without supervision?

Many of the most ardent admirers of the President have been shocked by his recent pictures which have appeared in the newspapers, magazines and news reels. While Roosevelt's mind may be as keen as ever, his face shows that he is a tired man. The terrific strain of the Presidency is telling on him. Regardless of political affiliations, every American hopes that Roosevelt will keep his health in order to serve out his term. We have not heard anyone say that they would prefer the brain child of Missouri bossism to replace Roosevelt.

The terrible loss at Iwo Jima indicates what we face in the Pacific. We have barely touched the Japanese army. The toll of our losses has been a bitter lesson to us that an easy victory over the Japs is impossible.

Most of us don't trust people for two reasons: First, because we don't know them; and second, because we do.

Grandpa used to bet soda pop for the crowd at the general store on Saturday that he could say three simple sentences that a visitor could not repeat. Here are the sentences:

"Who sits there?" says she.
"Who's there then?" says I.
"Then," says she, "here am I."

He used to regale us grandchildren with riddles, such as:

"Brothers and sisters,
Have I none;
Yet that man's father
Is my father's son."

Another of grandpa's questions was based on the Bible; "Who was the father of Zebedee's children?"

It was practically the equivalent of a college education, being around grandpa; he made you think.

A liar needs a good memory.

The ancients could toss a phrase with the best of the present day writers. Platon characterized a frog as "the damp songster who loves the rain."

Memories of Hollywood: A man with a copious beard—probably an "extra" in Westerns—not his face but his whiskers are his fortune. . . . A nice looking chap (with an Errol Flynn mustache) driving a truck that he turns in at the studio gate—the suspicion that he's not a regular truck driver but just took the wheel to drive to the studio on the chance that a director might catch sight of him and offer him a screen test. . . . A man on a vacant lot, busy training a young police dog and maybe dreaming that he has a successor to Rin-tin-tin.

"Brass" (in the sense of "nerve" or "gall") was used by Shakespeare. And "chisel" (to cheat) was used as far back as 1808. And I had always thought the words originated with some of our Texas politicians.

Superintendent Chester Strickland declared, "This clinic and the help of Mr. Truax will do a great deal to keep up the interests of our band during these days when we do not have as many trips as formerly."

High school principal McHenry Lane stated Friday night, "This has been a good day for White Deer Schools; anything that helps our band help our whole high school."

College Directors' Board Furnishes Rotary Program

The Board of Directors of West Texas State College Foundation furnished the program for the weekly meeting of the Amarillo Rotary Club last Thursday.

Ross D. Rogers, of Amarillo, Chairman of the Board, was in charge of the program which was heard by almost 200 Rotarians. He presented each of the members of the Board. They were Dr. Lee Johnson, President J. A. Hill, and Professor Herschel Coffee, of Canyon; Deskins Wells of Wellington; Mel Davis of Pampa; Raymond Thompson of Vega; J. T. Hale, Tulia; David M. Warren, Panhandle; Charles Keffer, Dr. Roy Boger and John L. McCarty of Amarillo; Regent Newton Harrell of Claude.

President Hill was the speaker for the group. In twenty-one minutes he told the Rotarians of the purposes for which the West Texas State College Foundation was established, some of the projects which it expects to underetake in the near future, and, in addition, he gave some detailed information on the Chapel which will be built soon on the campus.

The President also explained how the interests of business and professional groups are tied in with the growth and continued services of West Texas State College.

At the close of the program, Chairman Ross Rogers was congratulated on the representative group which had been chosen to guide the work of the Foundation. Most of the board members are ex-students of the college.

Chairman Rogers told the Board that he would call frequent meetings of the organization and that these will be held whenever possible in the home towns of the members, and at such times that it will be possible to give a program before some representative group of citizens in each place.

C. L. Thompson, who is president of another organization which is working on development problems of West Texas State College was a guest of President Hill at the Amarillo meeting.

Millions of Wooden Troughs Offered For Sale By Government

Probably the greatest wooden trough sale ever heard of in the history of mankind is being conducted at the present time by the U. S. Government. Just a small matter of two million four hundred thousand wooden troughs, 29 inches long, are piled up on the Southern Pacific Railroad siding at Benecia, California. They are made from Ponderosa and Sugar Pine, and it took 4,774,680 square feet of lumber to construct them. They are offered for sale to the highest bidders by the United States Treasury, Procurement Division, Office of Surplus Property, 30 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, California.

A circular has been issued by this department offering these wooden troughs for sale, describing them, and stating the terms under which they will be sold. What the troughs were made for in the first place, is not stated. Whether or not they were ever used, is likewise not stated. All this huge amount of lumber was shipped to a manufacturing plant in New York, where these 2,400,000 troughs were manufactured, and now this lumber in its manufactured form is back in California where it came from, and being offered for sale in the shape of troughs.

Figuring 25,000 feet to a car, this huge amount of lumber required 190 cars to take it east, and more than that number to bring it back west in the shape of troughs. This appears to be one of the biggest, most unusual, and most interesting transactions that the Surplus Property units of our Government have had to handle; at least from a lumber standpoint.

The waste of this lumber is another reason why farmers and other citizens cannot buy needed lumber for their construction.

HIGHLAND H. D. MEMBERS GET WEEPING WILLOWS

The Highland H. D. Club met with Mrs. Frances Mitchell, March 18.

Plans for a "Sox Supper" were made for March 23. The supper is to be at the Wildorado School. The public is invited.

There were several article brought made from sacks. They were clothing and household linens.

The president, Mrs. L. E. Mason gave each member a weeping willow.

Five members present were: Mrs. Carl Fuqua, Mrs. Howard Fuqua, Mrs. A. N. Green, Mrs. L. E. Mason, and Mrs. F. Mitchell.

Mrs. W. W. Nicklaus is to be local chairman for the meeting of the Board of Managers of the Eighth District Congress of Parents and Teachers when it comes to Canyon on April 5th.

Mrs. T. V. Reeves was the guest of Miss Ida Lee Cope at the luncheon given in Amarillo Friday by Delta Kappa Gamma and the Association of Childhood Education.

Miss Eleanor Pierle, who is to be married in California April 1, to Arthur Robinson, attended the wedding of Pvt. Peter Meyers and Miss Margaret McGuire in Hollywood last week.

Sgt. and Mrs. Jack Walker spent Friday night in the parental T. S. Maxwell home. Sgt. Walker is on a delay enroute furlough from Yuma, Arizona to Lincoln, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Haydon and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Haydon of Plainview spent Sunday with their sister and daughter, Mrs. W. M. Thompson and family.

A woman arrived for the wedding late. As she came rushing up to the door, an usher approached her for her invitation.

"I have none!" she snapped.

"Are you a friend of the groom?" asked the usher.

"Certainly not!" the woman replied. "I'm the bride's mother."

Playboy: "Doctor, my trouble is that I'm always dreaming about beautiful women!"

Doctor: "Hum! And you want me to prescribe something that will change your dreams?"

Playboy: "Heck, no! I want something that will stop me from waking up at the psychological moment."

Paint Was Subject of Talk Tuesday at Rotary Club Lunch

Arch Hunsley of Amarillo talked on his paint business at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday. Mr. Hunsley is practically a Canyon citizen since he is developing the section of land across the highway from the college farm.

Mr. Hunsley described the vast number of uses of paint which were necessary during the war. Every building, bomb, projectile, munition and ship must be painted with a special kind which will give the best service.

Various shades and colors were developed to meet all of the requirements. Paints are even used on the uniforms of men in various parts of the globe in order to protect the men.

There are 1200 paint plants in the nation today. 99% of the paint used is mixed in these plants by trained men.

Mr. Hunsley started his paint factory in Amarillo 10 years ago. He is developing a paint which gives the best service under climatic conditions of the Panhandle. There are 5,000 different pigments and oils used in making paint. These come from every part of the globe.

Mr. Hunsley stated that the greatest need of the Panhandle was the development of more small factories and industries which employ small groups of men. These would be of more lasting benefits than a few big plants.

Visitors were: Rev. Joe Boone of Waxahachie; Norman Butterfield of Wilmington, Ill.; W. B. Gunn, J. E. Bowman, Raymond Hollingsworth, Roy White, Arch Hunsley, all of Amarillo; Lt. James W. Hodges of San Antonio; Bob Kilgore of Canyon.

Johnny came home from high school with a bit of newly acquired knowledge. "You know, dad," he said importantly, "they say that paper can be used to keep a person warm."

"That's right, son," returned the father wryly. "I had a mortgage that kept me sweating 20 years."

Buffs Lost Second Game Played in K. C. Tournament

The Buffalo quintet, who changed their motto this year from height to speed, held their outstanding record even until the last few minutes of playing time left in their second game at the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament at Kansas City. West Texas States' basketeers nearly sprang an upset while playing the George Pepperdine College of Los Angeles, but faltered in the last two minutes of play, and the final score was 52-45.

Pepperdine advanced to the semi-final round of their victory over the Buffs. The Texas entry gained an early lead over the heavily-favored Pepperdine quintet, and the game proved thrilling for the fans. Brilliant passwork and clever ball handling kept the Buffs ahead and they held a 23-20 advantage at the intermission point.

The Los Angeles team tied the score at 45-45 with two minutes to play. Apparently over-anxious, W. T. fouled five times and the Pepperdine basketeers sunk seven foul shots to provide the margin of victory.

W. T.'s team was the favorite of the crowd throughout the tournament. An injury to their star and captain, Deacon Johnson, may have kept them from going the entire distance.

Pepperdine used its height to advantage—the starting lineup average was 6 feet, 5½ inches—but they were outhustled by the fighting Buffaloes. J. W. Malone established himself firmly as the favorite among the spectators and distinguished himself against the Wichita team, whom the Buffs played on March 13, in their first game in the tournament.

Eaglettes Overcome Eight Wonders

The Eagle's Tale

19th Year | Published by The Canyon News for Canyon High School | Thursday, March 22, 1945

Players Arrange Initial Journey

Avent and Wilson Effect Highest Scoring Totals

While playing against a well-trained volleyball team of Amarillo High School Friday at four o'clock, the Canyon Eaglettes defeated them in both games with final scores of 15-5 and 15-8.

Martha Jean Avent was high scorer with nine points and Nancy Wilson, captain, followed up with seven scores after playing both games.

Miss Wanda Price, physical education instructor, said the girls demonstrated excellent teamwork and cooperation during both games. She also stated that the team played against an excellent team which had won in the intramurals in which fifty-one other volleyball teams of Amarillo High School had entered.

Line-up for the game was Martha Jean Avent, Bonnie Drake, Fawn Rogers, Anita Johnigan, Marilyn Johnigan, Nancy Wilson, and Velta Speer substituting.

Thursday afternoon the Eaglettes were conquered by a W. T. S. C. volleyball team in three games with the final scores of 15-9, 15-7, and 15-10 in the W. T. S. C. gymnasium. Nancy Wilson was high scorer for the Eaglettes.

Eaglettes will play West Texas High School tomorrow afternoon. Also the Amarillo High School team will return their game sometime next week.

Let's Have A Town-wide Teen Center

By Ellen Root

Young people of Canyon need and want a town-wide youth center.

Yes, that is a pretty broad statement. But out of a number of teen-agers asked, an over-whelming majority were definitely in favor of a center, a few undecided, and none against it.

Canyon should have a center which would not be restricted to any particular group of young people, in order to stimulate good feeling between all the students in town. Another advantage would be that the activities would not have to be discontinued in the summer.

This center might be held Friday night, be open at least until 11:00, and be restricted to a certain age limit, such as from about 13 or 14 to 18. It might be backed up by a civic organization, and governed by an executive committee of young people elected from various groups in town.

A center in another town is financially supported by membership fees of 50c per three months, and ten cents a night for visitors for the first three times. Activities include dancing, ping-pong, table games, and special activities.

If all the youth of Canyon will get behind the movement, and the adults will offer cooperation by giving their consent and helping to furnish a place for the center, this plan can be put over.

Shall we have a town-wide teen-center?

TO OUR PARENTS

Do our parents really understand us, the teen-agers of America? Do they think we are stubborn and head strong or just plain nuts? In most cases the answer to the first question is no and to the second is yes.

Being a teen-age girl I can say that I don't think that anybody has ever really understood this generation. To us, our ideas are the most important and best ideas ever presented. We don't deliberately do things to make our parents' hair turn grey. We do things on impulse and think afterward. Maybe this isn't right, but let us alone so we can discover this for ourselves. Nine times out of ten we'll do exactly what we are told not to do, just to find out. It's true this is just curiosity, but wasn't Edison curious?

Maybe it's true that some kids are just a little on the rough side, as we say. Maybe they don't always do just exactly as they should but give them a chance. How could anyone be anything without the help of people?

We, the high school boys and girls of today will be the ruling body of America tomorrow. Don't criticize or stall our ideas. Help us develop them and put them forward for the good of our country. Give us a chance. We aren't as far gone to the dogs as you give us credit for. Times have changed since you were in school and time is marching on!

—by Bonnie Drake.

Intramurals Take School Spotlight

Opening the 1944-45 intramural season, the seniors tripped the juniors with a score of 16-6 Monday, March 12.

Games for the rest of the week were as follows: Tuesday, eigth grade 12, seventh grade 9; Wednesday, sophomores 16, freshmen 12; Thursday, juniors 8, eighth 4; and Friday, sophomores 18, seniors 14.

Beginning the last week of this between - classes competition the freshmen outplayed the juniors Monday for a score of 5-4. At the end of the regular game the score was tied and was still tied at the end of a three minute overtime. Then the game was decided by "sudden death"; that is, by the freshmen's basketing a free shot.

Climaxing this week of games will be the finals to be played tomorrow afternoon during the last period as a regular basketball game. School will be dismissed so that students may see the game.

Muscle Critics Want More Robust Males

"Look at those muscles!" say feminine admirers. "Those little well-rope muscles will have to be stronger than that!"

You say your favorite desserts are Karo pie, cherry sundaes and banana splits. Brother! You can't play football and live on that. And look at that dehydrated fellow over there. He's not yawning either. It doesn't mean a thing; "Skinny" goes to bed at 2:30 every night.

And say, does the cigarette shortage bother you? Too bad. You'll have to sit on the bench next year, big boy, unless you get in shape.

How 'bout that D you made in your major subject? That settles it! You'll just have to let your social life go to seed or not be our dream football player. So get in training and keep us drooling with those fancy passes next year while Fatso sits it out! More brawn, please!

We're getting just like our car. The older we become the more knocking we do.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS

To Joan O'Connor Cousins, Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Randall County at the Court House thereof, in Canyon, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, the same being the 16th day of April A. D. 1945, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 22nd day of January A. D. 1945, in this cause, numbered 1840 on the docket of said court and styled Ralph P. Cousins, Plaintiff vs. Joan O'Connor, Defendant.

A brief statment of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: Plaintiff sues the defendant for divorce, alleging they were married November 15, 1925, in the State of New York, and that they lived together as husband and wife until about January 14, 1937, when on account of cruel treatment of plaintiff by defendant, which such ill treatment was of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable, plaintiff was compelled to and did abandon the defendant, since which time the parties have lived separately and have not resumed the marital relationship. No children were born to said marriage and the parties adopted no children; and that there are no property rights to be adjusted and adjudicated between the parties; and plaintiff's prayer for judgment for divorce dissolving the bonds of matrimony between plaintiff and defendant and for such other relief plaintiff may be entitled to receive, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Canyon, Texas, this the 1st day of March, A. D. 1945.

(Seal) A. B. HOLT, Clerk,
District Court
Randall County, Texas.

Proving spring has sprung the following note was found:

Do you still love me as much as you did when I started liking you?

I love yolu more than I did when you first started liking me.

Frances Standley really hates to be absent from English class. Easton Wall wouldn't have anything to do with that, would he?

J. Spencer Winn has really been doing the rounds. Monday morning he was seen holding hands with Joyce Sanders, and one night last week he took Mary Frances Colwell to the show and then went on a long moon-lit ride.

Believe it or not, Jean Prater has announced that she is a "Manhater," but—we wonder.

Austelle Burrus says he really had a good time with Joan Morton last Friday night.

Be careful Johnny Frances Wallen during junior assembly play practice. Don't make it too realistic!

Ellen Root was disappointed when she found out Tommy Thompson has been going with Nancy Wilson. She was planning on hookin' him herself!

Billie Jo Wallen and George Schaeffer were seen cozily riding around town Sunday afternoon. It WAS a nice day for romance, wasn't it?

Those volleyball girls are carrying on the school tradition of winning. Keep it up and may the Eaglettes always be victorious.

Some of our favorite basketball boys have cut off their curley locks and are greeting each other as "Curley." Oh, why did you do it, boys?

This track work-out is just a little hard on some of the softer muscles. It's nothing unusual to hear the local huskies groaning because of soreness.

Everyone in school except the seniors seem to be rooting against the seniors in the intramurals. Don't you think just a few of you lower classmen might yell for the seniors just a little? They aren't really such villains.

It was a hard pill for the seniors to swallow when the sophomores beat them last week. Don't worry, Sophs, the seniors will revenge this defeat.

Intramural finals will be played tomorrow afternoon the sixth period. All classes will be dismissed and a full length game will be played.

Members of the first string volleyball team elected Marilyn Johnigan as co-captain. Captain of the second string is Lorene Seales, while Louise Dickinson is manager of the whole squad.

Pitiful Pleas Plague Pedigogue's Plight

It's my time-today! Don't let him take "it" out, teacher! That makes three days straight for him. You've been on that row two months. I haven't taken "it" out this year! Eager Beaver! Teacher's pet! He can't do that to us! (or can he?)

My, what energetic students! One would think "it" was really something from all the carryings on. Is "it" some big heavy object that each teacher wants put out at the beginning of each class? If so, who brings it back in? Whatever (or whoever) "it" is must be fun to carry (or beautiful) since everyone is so eager to carry "it" out.

Say, that's enough of this! What are you talking about? (Says the reader about this time).

Well, haven't you guessed it yet? That's right! It just happens to be the little absentee slip which has to be put out on the door at the beginning of each class.

Rescue of Luzon Given by Army of Local Interest

With the 40th Infantry Division on Luzon, February 14.—To 1st Lt. James M. Flinchum, Wichita, Kansas, and a deteachment of enlisted men from the 185th Regiment of the 40th Infantry Division goes credit for a dramatic and daring rescue on the island of Luzon.

Flinchum and the men under his command traveled seven hours thru enemy lines and territory to rescue Mr. and Mrs. Linton Shaner, Portland, Oregon, and their daughter, Linda, age four.

A graduate of the Oregon School of Mines, Shaner and his family lived three years in an abandoned mine shaft. The army reserve officer, deferred six months in 1941 to serve as a mining engineer in the world's largest chromite mine, worked in Korea and Manchukuo from 1931-34. Later he operated in Formosa.

Seven weeks after the Japs took Manila they had reached Santa Cruz, Shaner and family had vacated. For a month he and three trusted Igorot servants silently moved personal belongings and a year's supply of food 25 miles over mountain trails. Daughter, Linda, a rosey-faced tow-head, was a year old at that time. Often the parents missed their meals of rice and cocoanut milk so that the child might eat.

For a few months the family burned kerosene to avoid tell-tale smoke. Later the Filipinos taught them to build a smokeless bamboo fire. Operating between the hide-out and Japanese garrison five miles distant the servants stole 30 sacks of rice and 200 cocoanuts and a large package of vegetable seed. Shaner trapped wild deer and pigs. At the time of their rescue three acres had been cleared for a garden.

Walking 10 miles, guided by his two Filipinos, this slender six-foot miner reacher the 40th Division. He had passed through the Jap defense area.

Speaking of the move, Shaner said, "I was reading a Jap paper which told of their great victories. Reading between the lines I noted they were constantly falling back. When I saw our planes and heard the firing I knew our boys were here. That's when I decided to make my escape," he added.

Mrs. Shaner, a lovely red-head, whose hair is now nearly white, is 35, and her husband the same age. Her first question after greeting 40th troops were, "How do women in the States wear their hair and dresses? What new songs are out?"

In addition to his mine records, Shaner brought dried deer meat for the boys of the 40th who risked their lives to liberate this family. To veterans of two and a half years continuous overseas service, deer meat was a welcome treat.

Members of the rescue party included Pfc. Clarence D. Maynard, 31, brother of D. J. Maynard, Canyon.

Mrs. Katz: I want to know how much money my husband has drawn out this month.

Teller: Sorry, Mrs. Katz, but I can't give you that information.

Mrs. Katz: Aren't you the paying teller?

Teller: Yes, but I'm not the telling payer.

The little black boy didn't mind being called "Midnight" by his little white playmates, but when another little black boy called him "Midnight" he indignantly exclaimed, "You's jes' about a quarter to twelve you'sef."

Small girl: I wonder why so many babies get borned at night.

Seven Year Old: Don't you know? It is because they want to be sure of finding their mothers at home.

Women have many faults, but men have only two—everything they say and everything they do.
